HER 101ST BIRTHDAY

MRS. NANCY HARSH IS THAT AGE TODAY.

IS IN GOOD HEALTH

Celebrating Her Birthday Anniversary by Being at Home to Her Hopkins Friends.

Mrs. Nancy Harsh, known far and near as "Grandma" Harsh, is celebrating her 101st birthday anniversary today at Hopkins.

Mrs. Harsh is bright as a dollar, is feeling fine and assures her friends she is in better health today than she was six years ago. Her conversation is intensely interesting, and one could sit for hours and listen to her relating incidents of her past life.

Of all her varied experiences, she says the time of the civil war, especially the assassination of Lincoln, were the most exciting. Mrs. Harsh sent two of her sons to the army, one giving up his life for the cause. She is very patriotic, and, as she expresses it, "Republican and Presbyterian to the very core."

Of her handiwork she takes great pride in showing a counterpane made in 1860, the work taking her one year to complete, and the white muslin of which it is made cost her fifty cents a yard.

Grandma Harsh enjoys a joke as well as anyone, and she assures her relatives that as she had such a large celebration at Creston last year, when hundreds called to see her, this year must be very quiet. However, she said, "If I live to be 200 years old I will place no limitations on your celebration and will give consent to firecrackers, auto parades, airship flights and so on."

A brief history of this wonderful woman may be summed up thus:

Nancy McKee was born in Mercer county, Pa., June 14, 1810. Moved to Washington county, Pa., 1814. Married there in 1833. Moved to Ohio in 1836. Husband died there. In 1849 she moved her family to Bureau county, Ill., and to Afton, Ia., in 1860. Later they moved to Creston, Ia., where she lived for twenty-five years, keeping house until six years ago, when she came to Hopkins to live with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Donlin.

Mrs. Harsh has been receiving numerous letters and telegrams this morning from friends all over the United States, which she has enjoyed very much. This afternoon she is at home to all of her Hopkins friends being assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. Mary Donlin, her granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Sargent, and her great granddaughters, Mrs. Arthur McMaster and Miss Lois Sargent.

The following relatives from out of town are spending the day with her: Senator J. B. Harsh, who is a son, and his wife and daughter, Miss Grace, of Creston; F. D. Harsh and daughter, Miss Nancy, of Des Moines; Mrs. Mary Tomb of Peoria, Ill.

Besides Senator Harsh of Creston, Grandma Harsh has two other sons, Senator A. F. Harsh of Lowell, Neb. and P. L. Harsh of Eugene, Ore. She has but one living daughter with whom she makes her home.

Mrs. Harsh has a wonderful picture, taken the day after she was 100 years old, which she loved to present to her friends, and it is always duly appreciated by them.

Mrs. R. J. Spickerman and two little daughters, Martha Lucile and Edith Neola, left for their home in Rockport Tuesday evening, after a several weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. C. P. Denny. They stopped in St. Joseph for a visit with Mrs. Spickerman's sister, Mrs. Donald Cady. Mrs. Spickerman's oldest little girl, Evangeline, remained for a longer visit and will meet her mother in St. Joseph Saturday.

TODAY IS AMERICAN "FLAG DAY"

The American flag is 134 years old today, and in the terms established by the American Flag association in 1898 today is Flag day. It has been customary for public and business buildings in Maryville to fly the Stars and Stripes in honor of the anniversary, and many private homes, too, have followed the patriotic custom.

Mrs. Betsy Ross, a widow upholsterer of 239 Arch street, Philadelphia, made the first model of the flag June 14, 1777, and gave it to the country. The first design of the flag was made by George Washington, with six-pointed stars. Betsy Ross suggested the change to five-pointed stars.

The flag was displayed first by American forces in August, 1777. In September it waved at the battle of Brandywine, and it was saluted and cheered at the surrender of Burgoyne in October of the same year.

Although America is comparatively young among the nations, its flag is said to be older than that of any other great nation. The flag of England in its distinctive form of the Union Jack dates back only to 1801. The French tri-color was adopted in 1794. The German and Italian banners are no older than the existing regimes of those nations. The Spanish first established theirs in 1785.

Old Glory, say, who,
By the ships and the crew
And the long, blended ranks of the gray and the blue—
Who gave you, Old Glory, the name that you bear
With such pride everywhere
As you cast yourself free to the rapturous air
And leap out full length, as we're wanting you to?
Who gave you that name, with the ring of the same
And the honor and fame so becoming to you,
Your stripes stroked in ripples of white and of red,
With your stars at their glittering best overhead,
By day or by night
Their delightfulest light
Laughing down from their little square heaven of blue?
Who gave you the name of Old Glory? Say, who—
Who gave you the name of Old Glory?

The old banner lifted and, faltering, then
In vague lisps and whispers fell silent again.

* * * * * * * *

Old Glory, the story we're wanting to hear
Is what the plain facts of your christening were,
For your name, just to hear it,
Repeat it and cheer it, 's a tang to the spirit
As salt as a tear,
And, seeing you fly and the boys marching by,
There's a shout in the throat, and a blur in the eye,
And an aching to live for you always—or die!
If dying we still keep you waving on high.
And so, by our love
For you, floating above,
And the scars of all wars and the sorrows thereof,
Who gave you the name of Old Glory, and why
Are we thrilled at the name of Old Glory?

Then the old banner leaped, like a sail in the blast,
And fluttered an audible answer at last.

And it spake, with a shake of the voice, and it said
By the driven snow white and the living blood red
Of my bars and their heaven of stars overhead—
By the symbol conjoined of them all, skyward cast,
As I floated from the steeple, or flap at the mast,
Or droop o'er the sod where the long grasses nod—
My name is as old as the glory of God.
* * * So I came by the name of Old Glory.

G. W. FULLERTON DIES

SUDDENLY WEDNESDAY MORNING WHILE PICKING CHERRIES.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY

No Arrangements Made for Funeral Services—Was Mayor of Skidmore and is Well Known.

George W. Fullerton, mayor of Skidmore, died very suddenly at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning of apoplexy while picking cherries from a tree in his yard.

Mayor Fullerton, who was about 69 years old, is well known over the county, and has always been a resident of Skidmore. When elected mayor of that town he and the town board adopted several stringent "blue" laws as to Sunday selling, and all business houses were closed on Sunday. Mr. Fullerton was third vice president of the Anti-Saloon license, and has always taken a prominent part for the temperance cause.

Mr. Fullerton was uptown in Skidmore Wednesday morning and was enjoying his usual health, as he told his friends. He went to his home and commenced to pick cherries. His wife noticed him picking the cherries, standing on the ground, and saw him fall over. He died a few minutes later.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral arrangements. The deceased is survived by his wife and six children.

A PIONEER'S STORY

CONTINUES HIS LIST OF LADIES AT CHURCH THAT DAY.

LATER TELLS OF A DANCE

Uncle Mose Stingley and Uncle Gasham Jackson Were the Fiddlers at the Ball.

As I did not get through naming those ladies occupying seats on the west side at that meeting in the court house, I will now proceed to name the balance, after which I will relate to you the circumstance of a dance held on the south side of the court house (I mean below), and what transpired, then I will furnish you a diagram of the upstairs, the rooms, their occupants and so on. On a seat close to the judge's stand sat Mrs. Adam Terhune and her two daughters, Miss Amanda and Miss Martha. Amanda afterward married Captain Leonidas H. Case, and Martha married Warren L. Johnson, who at that time was deputy circuit clerk and later treasurer of Nodaway county. He is now and for many years has been a justice of the peace, and at our late election was made police judge to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late and lamented Judge Samuel B. Arnold.

On a seat close by sat Mrs. Ned Stinson and her three comely daughters, known only to me by their nicknames, "Cub," "Coon" and "Pig." "Cub" afterward married John M. Holt, now a cattle and land king of Montana; "Coon" married Harry Turner, now a big stock commission man of Chicago, and "Pig," now deceased, married Joseph Craig of San Diego, Cal.

Miss Mollie Wood and Miss Mary McGinness also were seated there. Whether Miss Wood married afterward I am now unable to say, but Miss Mary McGinness married Jacob M. Ashford, brother of William D. Ashford, now a resident of Maryville. Jacob M. lives in this county.

Well, all of the old-timers will remember Miss Belle Dunn. She married Jack Torrance, who after their marriage killed Willis Allen by striking him on the head with a bottle in a saloon row on the corner where the First National bank stands.

Miss Betsy Robison was also there, and she could now perhaps tell as much and probably more about the early settlers and the various happenings of those days than I can tell myself. She is now known to almost every man, woman and child in Maryville as "Aunt Betsy." This brings to my mind that soon after this meeting they concluded to have a dance in the court house yard, on the south side, of course. Uncle Mose Stingley and Uncle Gesham Jackson were at once notified, but not by phone, as is the custom nowadays. A courier was soon started on horseback to each of these old fiddlers, and in the meantime a temporary platform was built for, I think, two or three sets at a time.

When the night came, Uncle Mose came and took his chair. Each finger on both hands was adorned with a big brass ring. Uncle Gesham was content with his long flowing whiskers for ornament. When the music started every young fellow grabbed a girl. I believe Ed McMillan was the first on the floor with his partner, Miss Betsy Robison, and they gave a dance that was new to me. He called it "cutting the pigeon wing." William Allen, George Davis, Ben F. Torrance, Dr. Samuel Dunn, Joseph and Bud Shepherd, Joseph and Marion Cooper, Wash and Joseph Mercer, Lou Mochel, Joseph Brolyer, John Schmidt, W. H. Harris, Whit Kelley and several others I might mention were participants.

Seats were provided along the wall, so that as soon as the set was over they could take their seats again. Those who had been seated would at once get their partners and take their places on the platform for the next set.

A funny thing happened near the close of the dance. Uncle Mose was actually making his fiddle talk, his tongue laid out on his chin as it always did when he was immensely interested in his music. The whole scene is before me now as plain as day.

Well, Ed McMillan concluded it was time for him and his lady to go home, and was looking around for his hat. He wore a dandy high-crowned plug hat when he came to the dance and laid it down on the bench, when he went out on the floor to dance. When Ed wanted to go home he couldn't find his hat and was hunting around for it all over, when George Davis arose to go, and behold, Ed found his hat in the self-same spot from which George had risen, mashed as flat as though a steam roller had gone over it. Ed picked it up and held it with one hand while he attempted to push the crown up with his other hand. It was not a success, so he took hold of the rim with both hands and put his foot in the hat and pushed. But, sad to relate, his foot went through the crown, and there he stood, bareheaded and his hat on one leg. Upon my word, I was never so tickled. I just had to laugh. He had my sympathy, though, and everybody else sympathized with him, while his best girl was mortified like everything over such an unusual sight.

I will now give you the names of the county judges: Leander T. Ellis, presiding judge; Thomas D. Wallace, Morris D. Noble and Josiah Coleman, or doc, or colonel, as we all called him afterward, associate judges.

Let us go upstairs or to the second story, either up the stairway inside, in the northeast corner, or on the outside, as shown in the diagram. Ascending to the landing on the outside, the door to the entrance was in the center of the building. A hall led through the center of the building. The different offices were situated on each side of the hall. The first office on the north, entering from the east, was that of the county clerk, B. G. Ford, who was succeeded by Joseph Jackson, Sr. Next west, on the same side, was that occupied by James P. Coover, county treasurer. In the northwest corner was the office of John C. Terhune, circuit clerk and recorder, as he held both offices at that time. Warren L. Johnson was deputy clerk and recorder. He was elected county treasurer to succeed James P. Coover. In the southeast corner was the office of Joseph E. Alexander, sheriff.

Next week I will finish the description of the upstairs offices and their incumbents.

Mrs. Mary Wray went to Maryville one day last week, and purchased the horse and buggy of her son, Curtis Wray.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wray and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfers of Pickering were in Hopkins for a short visit last Sunday.

Last Sunday will be a day long remembered by our citizens as a day of wind, dust, automobiles and ball game. The wind blew, the dust flew, the autos shrieked, and so did the "fans." And sometimes the "fans" groaned, especially the Parnell "fans," when Hopkins won the game 8 to 4. The weather was very much against the game, and we sometimes wonder if it wasn't a sign from above that Sunday ball playing should be stopped. Who knows?

The friends of Mrs. Nettie Connett called on her last Friday. Some came with their dinners and spent the day; others just called for a short time, but all remembered Mrs. Connet and brought her gifts that were very much appreciated by her. Mrs. Connet has been blind for a number of years, and it is a pleasure to her friends in Hopkins and vicinity to care for her and see that she lacks none of the necessaries of life. Although last Friday was supposed to be donation day, every day since some of her friends can be seen going to her home with a package of some sort or other, and they always stay for a chat, and a kind word of encouragement from this "cheerfully afflicted one."

SERVANTS TO GUARD THEM.

Wife of Special American Ambassador to the Coronation Will Wear a Dress of White Satin at Chief Ceremony of the Occasion.

When Mrs. John Hays Hammond sailed for England with Mr. Hammond, special ambassador from the United States to the coronation of King George V., she carried the most heavily insured wardrobe ever taken out of this country. Mrs. Hammond obtained insurance on her gowns and jewels and, it is said, the aggregate amount of the policies will run into six figures.

The gowns have been chosen with infinite care and in keeping with the rigid court rules set down by Queen Mary and with the great honor bestowed on this American woman.

To see that no disaster occurs, a small corps of Mrs. Hammond's personal servants whom she took with her to London for the coronation will jealously guard the wardrobe until the very hour when Mrs. Hammond dons the various articles for the great gala affairs scheduled for this royal exhibition of fashion.

Handsome as are her gowns and costly as are her jewels, many of them of great historic value and priceless, it may be set down here that Mrs. Hammond and her husband will be the two most democratic figures participating in the great coronation festivities.

SAM LOYD, THE PUZZLE MAKER

He Was Inventor of the Famous "Pigs in Clover."

AMASSED A LARGE FORTUNE.

Known as the Puzzle King, He Set Problems That Taxed the Ingenuity of the World For Two Generations. The Donkey Made Him the Most Money.

Sam Loyd, the puzzle man, whose puzzles have taxed the minds of the whole world for almost two generations, died recently at his home in Brooklyn. He had made a fortune out of his puzzles and died a very wealthy man.

It was as the "puzzle king" that Sam Loyd was best known, but besides being a puzzle maker he was an artist of some ability, an inventor of mechanical devices, a writer, a chess player of great proficiency and a profound mathematician. His ability in the latter field was at the bottom of much of his success as a puzzle maker.

He was born in Philadelphia in 1841 of an old Quaker family and at the age of ten was playing chess with some of the cracks of the country and often beating them. First he studied engineering, and then he studied mathematics and languages at Heidelberg. But all the while he was making puzzles for his own amusement and to perplex his friends. When he was twenty-five years old he became a professional puzzle maker, conducting a puzzle department in various newspapers for many years thereafter and spreading his fame to the far corners of the earth.

Most Famous Puzzles.

The two most famous puzzles invented by Sam Loyd were "pigs in clover" and the fifteen puzzle. His puzzles were divided into two general classes—namely, those requiring manual dexterity and those requiring mental dexterity. Many folks throughout the world got the pigs into the right place at the expense of their nervous systems, but nobody ever solved the fifteen puzzle. It had occurred to Loyd while trying an old Hindu puzzle of the magic square. Famous mathematicians sought to work it out all over the world, but their solutions never came right, according to its author. Mr. Loyd afterward said that he never made any money out of his fifteen block puzzle because he was unable to have it copyrighted, nor did he out of the "pigs in clover." One store alone sold 100,000 sets of his block puzzle when the craze was on.

The puzzle out of which this inventor of brain twisters made the most money was the donkey puzzle, in which the object was to put two jockeys on the backs of two donkeys. This he patented and sold in large quantities. The facility with which his brain could turn out puzzles of such a kind as to baffle the keenest mind and give half the world headaches was shown when he turned out the pony puzzle. It was turned out in response to a bet made by a governor of Pennsylvania while returning on the same steamer from Europe with the puzzle maker in 1868. The governor had challenged Loyd to produce a new puzzle before the passengers in the smoking room. Loyd took a pencil, drew a pony and cut him up into three pieces. The pony was galloping before he cut it up, but the thing was to make it gallop afterward. The governor offered a reward then for anybody to solve it on the voyage, but nobody did and not many afterward.

Invaded England.

P. T. Barnum heard of this puzzle and ordered 10,000,000 for advertising use. The showman traveled around with the solution in his pocket, as he could not remember it overnight, he said. In the end 1,000,000,000 copies of the puzzle were sold. This and some of the others netted him a great deal of money, which he shrewdly invested in real estate and in good securities, with the result that he amassed a large fortune. Shortly after turning out the "disappearing Chinaman" he went to Europe and introduced his puzzles to the English newspapers. Immediately all England started to work over them.

Hundreds of chess problems were turned out by Sam Loyd, whose first prize for a maker of these was taken when he was eleven years old. He was the author of "Chess Strategy," one of the most popular works on the game. Turning to the mechanical field, he invented such puzzles as the chair puzzle and the star puzzle, almost impossible of solution.

Phonograph Calls Cows.

The phonograph, through the ingenuity of a couple of boys in Wisconsin, has become a thing of usefulness as well as amusement. After the novelty had worn off the boys had cast aside the "canned" songs and funny talks and gone back to checkers. But they found that doing the chores seriously interfered with the game. One of them remembered that they could talk into the records and have the talk come out just like it went in. So between moves each called into the machine, "Come, boss; come, boss." Then they put the phonograph out facing the pasture and let loose. The cows came home.

A June Clearance of Linen and Rep Suits.

The month of June is the month for wearing cool, crisp looking linen and Rep suits such as these. And at just the time when they are most desired comes this sale of linen, linene and Rep suits at particularly low prices.

The reason for the reduction can easily be explained—through handling, trying on and packing they have become mussed and wrinkled. Not enough to harm them but enough, in many cases, to be noticeable and, therefore, we desire to close them out.

The styles are conservative—nothing extreme. They will be in good style and good taste for a long time to come. The materials are the very best. The suits are chiefly intended for mid-summer evening wear and for that purpose they are ideal.

The best way to gain an idea of the importance of this sale is to come and see the garments—the lots are small, however, and they will probably be sold quickly, so come at the earliest convenient moment.

$5 and $5.50 Linene and Rep Suits for
$2.75
Linene and Rep suits in solid blue, white and pink colors, and in blue, white and pink combinations.
Worth $5 and $5.50 each.

$6.75 and $7.50 Pure Linen and Rep Suits for
$3.75
Pure linen and Rep suits in mostly natural linen colors. Fine quality of materials.
Worth $6.75 and $7.50 each.

Half Price For These Handled Lingerie Dresses

In going through our stock we have found quite a number of lingerie dresses that have become mussed and wrinkled, and some are slightly soiled, through handling and showing. So, down come the prices, and we have made the reductions big enough to make great bargains.

Two grades have been reduced:

White lingerie and India linon dresses trimmed with baby Irish and valenciennes lace, applique yokes; worth $5 regularly, now reduced to $2.50.

RECIPROCITY UP IN THE SENATE

Canadian Measure Is Launched in Upper House.

MANY SENATORS IN DEBATE.

McCumber of North Dakota Files Minority Report, Giving Sixteen Reasons Why Bill Is Opposed—Williams, Stone and Kern Stand by Taft.

Washington, June 14.—Canadian reciprocity was launched in the senate on what promises to be a stormy voyage.

Chairman Penrose of the finance committee and Senators Lodge and Bailey explained that a recommendation was impossible, because of a committee deadlock. Senators McCumber, LaFollette and Williams, members of the committee, presented their views, when unexpectedly a lengthy debate was started on a protest of Senator Bacon against the vote of Vice President Sherman, who broke a tie and adopted the Bristow amendment to the resolution providing for direct election of senators. Extensive precedents were cited against it and in support of the vice president's action.

McCumber Files Minority Report.

Taking the position that the Canadian reciprocity bill should be reported to the senate with an adverse recommendation, Senator McCumber (N. D.) filed a minority report, giving sixteen reasons why he opposed the bill. All were based on the contention that by opening the markets of the United States to Canadian farm products the proposed bill would have the effect of lowering the prices of American products.

Senator LaFollette, in an individual report, expressed adverse views on the reciprocity bill, declaring: "It is not the farmer, it is not the consumer for whom these negotiations were made. It was made to benefit the railroad, the miller, the packer, the newspaper publisher."

Senator John Sharp Williams submitted a report on the reciprocity bill, signed by Senator Stone (Mo.) and Senator Kern (Ind.), indorsing the position taken by President Taft.

SALVI ADMITS BURGLARY

Trial of Camorrists Resumed, but a Row Starts and Court Is Adjourned.

Viterbo, Italy, June 14.—At the trial of the Camorrists the crown prosecutor introduced several witnesses to establish that Gennaro Cuoccolo was a member of the Camorra when he was murdered. These witnesses described a burglary, which they said had been organized by Cuoccolo and executed by Guiseppe Salvi and a band of followers.

Salvi, who is accused of being one of the actual assassins of Cuoccolo and his wife, admitted the burglary, but denied the participation of Cuoccolo, who he said he did not know. He added that the crime had been planned by a certain Cafiero, who had subsequently confessed and had been condemned to five years' imprisonment. Salvi asked that the witnesses by prosecuted for perjury.

President Bianchi replied that the accused could not make such a demand. Counsel for the defense supported Salvi's request so vigorously that a hubbub ensued and the judge declared the sitting suspended.

FLY GERMAN FLAG IN FRANCE

Vine Dressers at Baronville Make Demonstration.

Paris, June 14.—The riotous Baronville vine dressers hoisted a German flag which later was captured by a troop of cavalry sent to enforce order. The soldiers were jeered as they rode off with the bunting. Agitations in the Department of Aube are growing, but it is not feared the demonstrations there will be as flagrant as were those in the Department of the Marne.

Iowa Engineer Goes to China.

Washington, June 14.—Charles Davis James, an expert engineer, once head of the engineering department of the Iowa university, has been selected by the Red Cross society to proceed to China to aid the Chinese government in preventing the great periodical inundations which have resulted in frightful famines. It is believed that by scientific engineering the River Hwai, which causes the greatest damage through overflows, can be controlled.

Aviator Mueller Takes a Tumble.

Madgeburg, Germany, June 14.—The first serious accident of the national aviation circuit rases occurred here when Karl Mueller, in attempting to land, fell with his biplane from a height of about 125 feet. The aviator sustained a concussion of the brain, but at the hospital to which he was removed it was thought that he would recover.

"Richest Congressman" Disconsolate Over Elopement.

New York, June 14.—John E. Andrus, "the wealthiest man in congress," is disconsolate over the elopement of his favorite daughter, Miss Helen Whittier Andrus, with Henry Homer Hobbs, best known to the world as left tackle, Yale, '09, and at present "aisle manager" for a department store in Springfield, Mass.

When the new Mrs. Hobbs called up her father to say "Homer and I are married and we are starting on our honeymoon," the congressman slammed the receiver up on the hook without saying a word.

ENGINE RUNS WILD THROUGH KANSAS CITY

Is Derailed After Causing Two Freight Train Wrecks.

Kansas City, June 14.—A wild engine caused two freight train wrecks, was itself derailed and tied up two railroad lines near Swope parke here.

The engine which caused the wrecks was that of a worktrain on the Kansas City Southern railway. It was going south, pushing three cars ahead of it, when the engineer saw a regular freight approaching. The engineer and fireman jumped. The engine sped on and threw the approaching engine and two cars off the track.

The impact of the two trains threw the reverse lever of the worktrain engine and it rapidly backed away from the wreck. A mile north of the first wreck the wild engine collided with an extra freight. Five cars were derailed, blocking the Missouri Pacific track, near by.

ONE COX INDICTMENT VALID

Writ of Mandamus Is Issued Against Judge Dickson.

Cincinnati, June 14.—The judges of the Second judicial circuit court of Ohio issued the writ of mandamus asked for by Prosecuting Attorney Hunt against Common Pleas Judge William L. Dickson, who quashed the two perjury indictments against George B. Cox, the political leader and banker.

The circuit judges held that Prosecutor Hunt having elected to try Cox on one of the indictments, it became the imperative duty of Judge Dickson to order such an election entered in the journal of the court without waiting to pass on a motion of quash.

The effect of the decision is that one of the two indictments against Cox is alive, but the quashing of one by Judge Dickson is effective, and he may quash the other without delay if he so desires. Prosecutor Hunt, after he had read the decision, declared that no matter what action Judge Dickson might take he can now take the case to the state supreme court.

CLAIMS SHE OWNS IOWA LAND

Woman Arrested When She Seeks to Gain Access to President Taft.

Washington, June 14.—The Washington police are awaiting word from Cedar Rapids (Ia.) relatives of Mrs. Johanna Bueckning of that place, who was arrested at the White House when she sought to gain access to President Taft. To the secret service men on guard there she said she wanted the president to recover certain lands she claimed she once owned in Iowa. Her conversation was such as to impel the officers to send her to the Washington asylum hospital.

Pension Fund for Ministers.

Duluth, June 14.—In order to create an endowment fund for pensions for ministers of the Lutheran denomination, $150,000 will be raised by assessment of $1 per member throughout the entire country. This decision was reached at the synodical council of the Augustana synod of Swedish Lutheran churches of America.

MEN OLD AT 35.

One Million Baldheads Who Thought Dandruff Wasn't Dangerous.

In the United States and Canada today there are nearly a million men who at 35 can be put in the baldhead class.

When these men had thick, vigorous hair, dandruff made its appearance.

That was the time to attack the enemy of mankind—the persistent little devil called a dandruff microbe, or germ that burrows deep down into the hair root and saps it of the vitality that is so essential to the hair.

Young men or any man, for that matter, beware of the dandruff germ; it is not a theory, but an actual condition that confronts you. That dandruff is caused by a germ is proven beyond question. That a germ destroys the hair root is today a matter of common knowledge.

The Koch Pharmacy has the remedy that kills the dandruff germs. They guarantee it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. It is called Parisian Sage and can be obtained at druggists in every town in America—ask them for it. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle of Parisian Sage.

"Armour's Millions" Pleased.

The big tent theater was again comfortably filled last night by an enthusiastic crowd, who saw the drama "Armour's Millions." The play made a hit with the audience; in fact, the laughs and applause were almost continuous. Mr. Arnold C. Baldwin had a part which gave him the opportunity to display his talents, which have gained him the title of the most popular leading man in metropolitan stock companies, and though he is modest enough not to make it a point to gain favor, Mr. Baldwin has the honor to claim last night's bill as his own, for he wrote it himself. Miss Cecile Elliott made her much heralded appearance in the harem skirt, and while it was not as immodest as some thought it would be, it was a decided novelty. Tonight's bill is "Paid a Debt." Prof. Young's orchestra has created a great deal of favorable comment.

HOME COMING DAY AT HARMONY CHURCH

What promises to be an event in Nodaway county history will occur next Sunday at Harmony church, northeast of Maryville.

It is "Home Coming day," and the pastor, Rev. C. R. Green, and his people have been preparing for it some time. They have assurance at the present time of the presence of about 1,400 people, who have personal interest in some way in this church.

The services will begin at 10 o'clock a. m., and interesting speakers will be heard until noon, when a basket dinner will be partaken of. There will be good music, the Northwest Normal quartet being among the singers.

It is expected that one of the three Wallace brothers, editors of the Wallace Farmer, the well known agricultural paper, will be present to speak. They are sons of President Wallace of the national conservation committee.

Rev. Green and the members of his church are accomplishing some unusual things, as church life goes. He is leading the members and their children in the recognition and development of spiritual life, physically, mentally and morally, in everything that pertains to daily living, whether it is raising corn and hogs, dragging roads, securing a "Saints Highway" or what. Even the Sunday school is going to have a corn contest this fall.

Harmony church is working along lines that will bring wide-reaching results some day.

The program for Home Coming day will appear Friday.

CURED TO STAY CURED.

How a Maryville Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—
From urinary disorders—
From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.
Maryville people testify.
Here's one case of it:

I. M. Woods, East Jenkins street, Maryville, Mo., says: "For some time kidney trouble had been lurking in my system, and although it did not bother me to any extent, I could see that the attacks were becoming more frequent and severe. Finally my kidneys became so badly disordered that I was obliged to seek relief. The kidney secretions were unnaural and so irregular in passage as to annoy me greatly. I also had a pain in my back and could hardly stoop. Dizzy spells and headaches were common, and I was in a miserable condition when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills. I began their use, and after I had taken the contents of three boxes I was free from kidney trouble."—(Statement given in 1901.)

Time is the Test.

On September 19, 1908, Mr. Wood added to the above: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected in my case several years ago has been permanent. I am glad to again recommend this splendid remedy."

WARRINER GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

Trusty From Ohio Penitentiary Witness Against Cooke.

STOLE TO RECOUP HIS LOSSES

Judge Hunt Rules Out Evidence of Clerks of Big Four Who Would Prove Contents of Cash Books Destroyed—Men Higher Up to Testify.

Cincinnati, June 14.—When Charles L. Warriner, wearing the garb of a trusty in the Ohio penitentiary, took the stand in the trial of Edgar S. Cooke for alleged embezzlement, the voice of the man who told how he had stolen $643,000 from the road, was heard in public for the second time since he stood up in court to receive sentence.

Warriner testified at the trial for alleged blackmail last year of Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford, the "woman in the case," and at that time he asserted he had given to her and Cooke something over $100,000. In terse sentences Warriner outlined his dealings with Cooke. He told how the latter, receiving $90 a month, had handled millions of the road's money.

Warriner testified that when he discovered the alleged discrepancy of $24,000 in Cooke's accounts, the latter at first denied, but later admitted it.

"He said he had become involved with Mrs. Ford and had tried without success to recoup his losses in the stock market," related Warriner. "He told me he had $9,000 of the money left and I said I would take care of the balance of it if he would return the $9,000."

Judge Charles T. Hunt ruled out testimony of clerks of the Big Four railroad as to the contents of the cash books of the road that have been destroyed on the ground that "mere clerks" were not in charge of the books and that higher officials of the road only would be allowed to testify regarding them.

WHO GETS PROFIT ON BEEF?

Kansas Begins Investigation to Solve Great Mystery.

Topeka, Kan., June 14.—Who makes the profit on beef? The stockman says not he; the retailer declares he is making a bare living, and the packer can prove by yards of statistics that his only profit is what he gets for the hoofs at the glue factory.

Under present prices the consumer is dead sure he isn't getting any bargains in the beef line, so the state of Kansas has gone into a widespread investigation to solve the great mystery of the disappearance of the profit on beef.

J. H. Mercer, state live stock sanitary commissioner, is sending letters to all the stockmen, retailers and packers in Kansas with a list of questions to be answered bearing on the question. The stockman is being asked what it costs to raise a steer and what the steer brings on the average at the market, the retailer is asked what prices he pays for meat, and what prices he gets for it, and the packers are asked to tell what they pay for beef on the average, and what the beef and the by-products bring. In these answers Mr. Mercer expects to find the answer to the question of the high price of beef.

Steal Safe by Daylight.

Chicago, June 14.—Four burglars backed up a wagon in front of a store on the west side here, broke open the door and hauled away a 1,200-pound safe containing $125 in cash and $100 worth of jewelry. Max Kutchai, owner of the store, discovered the thieves driving away, too late to hinder them. The police are now searching for the safe.

KNEW NOTHING OF AGREEMENT

Says Prices on Yellow Pine Have Been Regulated by Supply and Demand, Not by Curtailing the Cut. Big Increase in Cost of Production.

Kansas City, June 14.—Charles S. Keith, president of the Central Coke and Coal company of this city, was recalled to be examined by the attorneys for the defendant. He said that the cost of producing yellow pine increased 88 per cent from 1898 to 1908; that the supply and demand and not the price list issued by the Yellow Pine Manufacturers' association controlled the price of yellow pine, and that his company sometimes arbitrarily curtails its production of lumber without consulting representatives of other lumber interests, because of business policy or the physical conditions under which the lumber is produced.

"While your company was a member of the Southern Lumber Manufacturers' association did you know of any agreement among the members of that association not to sell their lumber to farmers' co-operative associations or any other would-be purchasers?" asked Attorney Scarrett.

"I know of no such agreement," answered the witness.

"Was there any agreement, tacit, expressed or implied, to regulate, fix or control the price of yellow pine?"

"No."

"Was there ever an agreement to limit competition in the state of Missouri, or to limit or regulate the amount of lumber produced?"

"There was never an agreement to limit competition and never an agreement to curtail production except in 1904. Government statistics, however, show that the total amount of yellow pine produced in 1904 was greater than that of 1903. Lumber companies sometimes arbitrarily curtail their own production to meet conditions. In 1906 the transportation facilities were bad because we could secure only 60 per cent of the normal number of freight cars. Accordingly we cut down our production to 60 per cent. We did not want to pay labor to cut timber that we could not ship. Later we curtailed our production again to preserve our timber, believing we could handle it to better advantage if we held it."

Knox Is Called to Explain.

Washington, June 14.—A subpoena for Secretary of State Knox to appear and explain the payment to Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale, of $5,000 from the Canadian boundary fund of the state department was issued by the house committee on expenditures in the state department. The money was said to have been paid on the sole authority of Mr. Knox's O. K. on a piece of paper attached to an unsigned voucher.

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Harmless, Old-Fashioned Remedy Brings Back Color to Gray Hair and Makes It Grow.

How many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old-time, tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy nothing equals our grandmothers' "sage tea." Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer.

Nowadays, when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

Druggists are authorized to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

VOLUME 2. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1911 NO. 9.

HER 101ST BIRTHDAY

MRS. NANCY HARSH IS THAT AGE TODAY.

IS IN GOOD HEALTH

Celebrating Her Birthday Anniversary by Being at Home to Her Hopkins Friends.

Mrs. Nancy Harsh, known far and near as "Grandma" Harsh, is celebrating her 101st birthday anniversary today at Hopkins.

Mrs. Harsh is bright as a dollar, is feeling fine and assures her friends she is in better health today than she was six years ago. Her conversation is intensely interesting, and one could sit for hours and listen to her relating incidents of her past life.

Of all her varied experiences, she says the time of the civil war, especially the assassination of Lincoln, were the most exciting. Mrs. Harsh sent two of her sons to the army, one giving up his life for the cause. She is very patriotic, and, as she expresses it, "Republican and Presbyterian to the very core."

Of her handiwork she takes great pride in showing a counterpane made in 1860, the work taking her one year to complete, and the white muslin of which it is made cost her fifty cents a yard.

Grandma Harsh enjoys a joke as well as anyone, and she assures her relatives that as she had such a large celebration at Creston last year, when hundreds called to see her, this year must be very quiet. However, she said, "If I live to be 200 years old I will place no limitations on your celebration and will give consent to firecrackers, auto parades, airship flights and so on."

A brief history of this wonderful woman may be summed up thus:

Nancy McKee was born in Mercer county, Pa., June 14, 1810. Moved to Washington county, Pa., 1814. Married there in 1833. Moved to Ohio in 1836. Husband died there. In 1849 she moved her family to Bureau county, Ill., and to Afton, Ia., in 1860. Later they moved to Creston, Ia., where she lived for twenty-five years, keeping house until six years ago, when she came to Hopkins to live with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Donlin.

Mrs. Harsh has been receiving numerous letters and telegrams this morning from friends all over the United States, which she has enjoyed very much. This afternoon she is at home to all of her Hopkins friends being assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mrs. Mary Donlin, her granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Sargent, and her great granddaughters, Mrs. Arthur McMaster and Miss Lois Sargent.

The following relatives from out of town are spending the day with her: Senator J. B. Harsh, who is a son, and his wife and daughter, Miss Grace, of Creston; F. D. Harsh and daughter, Miss Nancy, of Des Moines; Mrs. Mary Tomb of Peoria, Ill.

Besides Senator Harsh of Creston, Grandma Harsh has two other sons, Senator A. F. Harsh of Lowell, Neb. and P. L. Harsh of Eugene, Ore. She has but one living daughter with whom she makes her home.

Mrs. Harsh has a wonderful picture, taken the day after she was 100 years old, which she loved to present to her friends, and it is always duly appreciated by them.

Mrs. R. J. Spickerman and two little daughters, Martha Lucile and Edith Neola, left for their home in Rockport Tuesday evening, after a several weeks' visit with her mother, Mrs. C. P. Denny. They stopped in St. Joseph for a visit with Mrs. Spickerman's sister, Mrs. Donald Cady. Mrs. Spickerman's oldest little girl, Evangeline, remained for a longer visit and will meet her mother in St. Joseph Saturday.

TODAY IS AMERICAN "FLAG DAY"

The American flag is 134 years old today, and in the terms established by the American Flag association in 1898 today is Flag day. It has been customary for public and business buildings in Maryville to fly the Stars and Stripes in honor of the anniversary, and many private homes, too, have followed the patriotic custom.

Mrs. Betsy Ross, a widow upholsterer of 239 Arch street, Philadelphia, made the first model of the flag June 14, 1777, and gave it to the country. The first design of the flag was made by George Washington, with six-pointed stars. Betsy Ross suggested the change to five-pointed stars.

The flag was displayed first by American forces in August, 1777. In September it waved at the battle of Brandywine, and it was saluted and cheered at the surrender of Burgoyne in October of the same year.

Although America is comparatively young among the nations, its flag is said to be older than that of any other great nation. The flag of England in its distinctive form of the Union Jack dates back only to 1801. The French tri-color was adopted in 1794. The German and Italian banners are no older than the existing regimes of those nations. The Spanish first established theirs in 1785.

Old Glory, say, who,
By the ships and the crew
And the long, blended ranks of the gray and the blue—
Who gave you, Old Glory, the name that you bear
With such pride everywhere
As you cast yourself free to the rapturous air
And leap out full length, as we're wanting you to?
Who gave you that name, with the ring of the same
And the honor and fame so becoming to you,
Your stripes stroked in ripples of white and of red,
With your stars at their glittering best overhead,
By day or by night
Their delightfulest light
Laughing down from their little square heaven of blue?
Who gave you the name of Old Glory? Say, who—
Who gave you the name of Old Glory?

The old banner lifted and, faltering, then
In vague lisps and whispers fell silent again.

* * * * * * * *

Old Glory, the story we're wanting to hear
Is what the plain facts of your christening were,
For your name, just to hear it,
Repeat it and cheer it, 's a tang to the spirit
As salt as a tear,
And, seeing you fly and the boys marching by,
There's a shout in the throat, and a blur in the eye,
And an aching to live for you always—or die!
If dying we still keep you waving on high.
And so, by our love
For you, floating above,
And the scars of all wars and the sorrows thereof,
Who gave you the name of Old Glory, and why
Are we thrilled at the name of Old Glory?

Then the old banner leaped, like a sail in the blast,
And fluttered an audible answer at last.

And it spake, with a shake of the voice, and it said
By the driven snow white and the living blood red
Of my bars and their heaven of stars overhead—
By the symbol conjoined of them all, skyward cast,
As I floated from the steeple, or flap at the mast,
Or droop o'er the sod where the long grasses nod—
My name is as old as the glory of God.
* * * So I came by the name of Old Glory.

G. W. FULLERTON DIES

SUDDENLY WEDNESDAY MORNING WHILE PICKING CHERRIES.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY

No Arrangements Made for Funeral Services—Was Mayor of Skidmore and is Well Known.

George W. Fullerton, mayor of Skidmore, died very suddenly at 11:30 o'clock Wednesday morning of apoplexy while picking cherries from a tree in his yard.

Mayor Fullerton, who was about 60 years old, is well known over the county, and has always been a resident of Skidmore. When elected mayor of that town he and the town board adopted several stringent "blue" laws as to Sunday selling, and all business houses were closed on Sunday. Mr. Fullerton was third vice president of the Anti-Saloon license, and has always taken a prominent part for the temperance cause.

Mr. Fullerton was uptown in Skidmore Wednesday morning and was enjoying his usual health, as he told his friends. He went to his home and commenced to pick cherries. His wife noticed him picking the cherries, standing on the ground, and saw him fall over. He died a few minutes later.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral arrangements. The deceased is survived by his wife and six children.

A PIONEER'S STORY

CONTINUES HIS LIST OF LADIES AT CHURCH THAT DAY.

LATER TELLS OF A DANCE

Uncle Mose Stingley and Uncle Gasham Jackson Were the Fiddlers at the Ball.

As I did not get through naming those ladies occupying seats on the west side at that meeting in the court house, I will now proceed to name the balance, after which I will relate to you the circumstance of a dance held on the south side of the court house (I mean below), and what transpired, then I will furnish you a diagram of the upstairs, the rooms, their occupants and so on. On a seat close to the judge's stand sat Mrs. Adam Terhune and her two daughters, Miss Amanda and Miss Martha. Amanda afterward married Captain Leonidas H. Case, and Martha married Warren L. Johnson, who at that time was deputy circuit clerk and later treasurer of Nodaway county. He is now and for many years has been a justice of the peace, and at our late election was made police judge to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late and lamented Judge Samuel B. Arnold.

On a seat close by sat Mrs. Ned Stinson and her three comely daughters, known only to me by their picknames, "Cub," "Coon" and "Pig." "Cub" afterward married John M. Holt, now a cattle and land king of Montana; "Coon" married Harry Turner, now a big stock commission man of Chicago, and "Pig," now deceased, married Joseph Craig of San Diego, Cal.

Miss Mollie Wood and Miss Mary McGinness also were seated there. Whether Miss Wood married afterward I am now unable to say, but Miss Mary McGinness married Jacob M. Ashford, brother of William D. Ashford, now a resident of Maryville. Jacob M. lives in this county.

Well, all of the old-timers will remember Miss Belle Dunn. She married Jack Torrance, who after their marriage killed Willis Allen by striking him on the head with a bottle in a saloon row on the corner where the First National bank stands.

Miss Betsy Robison was also there, and she could now perhaps tell as much and probably more about the early settlers and the various happenings of those days than I can tell myself. She is now known to almost every man, woman and child in Maryville as "Aunt Betsy." This brings to my mind that soon after this meeting they concluded to have a dance in the court house yard, on the south side, of course. Uncle Mose Stingley and Uncle Gesham Jackson were at once notified, but not by phone, as is the custom nowadays. A courier was soon started on horseback to each of these old fiddlers, and in the meantime a temporary platform was built for, I think, two or three sets at a time.

When the night came, Uncle Mose came and took his chair. Each finger on both hands was adorned with a big brass ring. Uncle Gesham was content with his long flowing whiskers for ornament. When the music started every young fellow grabbed a girl. I believe Ed McMillan was the first on the floor with his partner, Miss Betsy Robison, and they gave a dance that was new to me. He called it "cutting the pigeon wing." William Allen, George Davis, Ben F. Torrance, Dr. Samuel Dunn, Joseph and Bud Shepherd, Joseph and Marion Cooper, Wash and Joseph Mercer, Lou Mochel, Joseph Brolyer, John Schmidt, W. H. Harris, Whit Kelley and several others I might mention were participants.

Seats were provided along the wall, so that as soon as the set was over they could take their seats again. Those who had been seated would at once get their partners and take their places on the platform for the next set.

A funny thing happened near the close of the dance. Uncle Mose was actually making his fiddle talk, his tongue laid out on his chin as it always did when he was immensely interested in his music. The whole scene is before me now as plain as day.

Well, Ed McMillan concluded it was time for him and his lady to go home, and was looking around for his hat. He wore a dandy high-crowned plug hat when he came to the dance and laid it down on the bench, when he went out on the floor to dance. When Ed wanted to go home he couldn't find his hat and was hunting around for it all over, when George Davis arose to go, and behold, Ed found his hat in the self-same spot from which George had risen, mashed as flat as though a steam roller had gone over it. Ed picked it up and held it with one hand while he attempted to push the crown up with his other hand. It was not a success, so he took hold of the rim with both hands and put his foot in the hat and pushed. But, sad to relate, his foot went through the crown, and there he stood, bareheaded and his hat on one leg. Upon my word, I was never so tickled. I just had to laugh. He had my sympathy, though, and everybody else sympathized with him, while his best girl was mortified like everything over such an unusual sight.

I will now give you the names of the county judges: Leander T. Ellis, presiding judge; Thomas D. Wallace, Morris D. Noble and Josiah Coleman, or doc, or colonel, as we all called him afterward, associate judges.

Let us go upstairs or to the second story, either up the stairway inside, in the northeast corner, or on the outside, as shown in the diagram. Ascending to the landing on the outside, the door to the entrance was in the center of the building. A hall led through the center of the building. The different offices were situated on each side of the hall. The first office on the north, entering from the east, was that of the county clerk, B. G. Ford, who was succeeded by Joseph Jackson, Sr. Next west, on the same side, was that occupied by James P. Coover, county treasurer. In the northwest corner was the office of John C. Terhune, circuit clerk and recorder, as he held both offices at that time. Warren L. Johnson was deputy clerk and recorder. He was elected county treasurer to succeed James P. Coover. In the southeast corner was the office of Joseph E. Alexander, sheriff.

Next week I will finish the description of the upstairs offices and their incumbents.

Mrs. Mary Wray went to Maryville one day last week, and purchased the horse and buggy of her son, Curtis Wray.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wray and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolfers of Pickering were in Hopkins for a short visit last Sunday.

Last Sunday will be a day long remembered by our citizens as a day of wind, dust, automobiles and ball game. The wind blew, the dust flew, the autos shrieked, and so did the "fans." And sometimes the "fans" groaned, especially the Parnell "fans," when Hopkins won the game 8 to 4. The weather was very much against the game, and we sometimes wonder if it wasn't a sign from above that Sunday ball playing should be stopped. Who knows?

The friends of Mrs. Nettie Connett called on her last Friday. Some came with their dinners and spent the day; others just called for a short time, but all remembered Mrs. Connet and brought her gifts that were very much appreciated by her. Mrs. Connet has been blind for a number of years, and it is a pleasure to her friends in Hopkins and vicinity to care for her and see that she lacks none of the necessaries of life. Although last Friday was supposed to be donation day, every day since some of her friends can be seen going to her home with a package of some sort or other, and they always stay for a chat, and a kind word of encouragement from this "cheerfully afflicted one."

SERVANTS TO GUARD THEM.

Wife of Special American Ambassador to the Coronation Will Wear a Dress of White Satin at Chief Ceremony of the Occasion.

When Mrs. John Hays Hammond sailed for England with Mr. Hammond, special ambassador from the United States to the coronation of King George V., she carried the most heavily insured wardrobe ever taken out of this country. Mrs. Hammond obtained insurance on her gowns and jewels and, it is said, the aggregate amount of the policies will run into six figures.

The gowns have been chosen with infinite care and in keeping with the rigid court rules set down by Queen Mary and with the great honor bestowed on this American woman.

To see that no disaster occurs, a small corps of Mrs. Hammond's personal servants whom she took with her to London for the coronation will jealously guard the wardrobe until the very hour when Mrs. Hammond dons the various articles for the great gala affairs scheduled for this royal exhibition of fashion.

Handsome as are her gowns and costly as are her jewels, many of them of great historic value and priceless, it may be set down here that Mrs. Hammond and her husband will be the two most democratic figures participating in the great coronation festivities.

SAM LOYD, THE PUZZLE MAKER

He Was Inventor of the Famous "Pigs In Clover."

AMASSED A LARGE FORTUNE.

Known as the Puzzle King, He Set Problems That Taxed the Ingenuity of the World For Two Generations. The Donkey Made Him the Most Money.

Sam Loyd, the puzzle man, whose puzzles have taxed the minds of the whole world for almost two generations, died recently at his home in Brooklyn. He had made a fortune out of his puzzles and died a very wealthy man.

It was as the "puzzle king" that Sam Loyd was best known, but besides being a puzzle maker he was an artist of some ability, an inventor of mechanical devices, a writer, a chess player of great proficiency and a profound mathematician. His ability in the latter field was at the bottom of much of his success as a puzzle maker.

He was born in Philadelphia in 1841 of an old Quaker family and at the age of ten was playing chess with some of the cracks of the country and often beating them. First he studied engineering, and then he studied mathematics and languages at Heidelberg. But all the while he was making puzzles for his own amusement and to perplex his friends. When he was twenty-five years old he became a professional puzzle maker, conducting a puzzle department in various newspapers for many years thereafter and spreading his fame to the far corners of the earth.

Most Famous Puzzles.

The two most famous puzzles invented by Sam Loyd were "pigs in clover" and the fifteen puzzle. His puzzles were divided into two general classes—namely, those requiring manual dexterity and those requiring mental dexterity. Many folks throughout the world got the pigs into the right place at the expense of their nervous systems, but nobody ever solved the fifteen puzzle. It had occurred to Loyd while trying an old Hindu puzzle of the magic square. Famous mathematicians sought to work it out all over the world, but their solutions never came right, according to its author. Mr. Loyd afterward said that he never made any money out of his fifteen block puzzle because he was unable to have it copyrighted, nor did he out of the "pigs in clover." One store alone sold 100,000 sets of his block puzzle when the craze was on.

The puzzle out of which this inventor of brain twisters made the most money was the donkey puzzle, in which the object was to put two jockeys on the backs of two donkeys. This he patented and sold in large quantities. The facility with which his brain could turn out puzzles of such a kind as to baffle the keenest mind and give half the world headaches was shown when he turned out the pony puzzle. It was turned out in response to a bet made by a governor of Pennsylvania while returning on the same steamer from Europe with the puzzle maker in 1868. The governor had challenged Loyd to produce a new puzzle before the passengers in the smoking room. Loyd took a pencil, drew a pony and cut him up into three pieces. The pony was galloping before he cut it up, but the thing was to make it gallop afterward. The governor offered a reward then for anybody to solve it on the voyage, but nobody did and not many afterward.

Invaded England.

P. T. Barnum heard of this puzzle and ordered 10,000,000 for advertising use. The showman traveled around with the solution in his pocket, as he could not remember it overnight, he said. In the end 1,000,000,000 copies of the puzzle were sold. This and some of the others netted him a great deal of money, which he shrewdly invested in real estate and in good securities, with the result that he amassed a large fortune. Shortly after turning out the "disappearing Chinaman" he went to Europe and introduced his puzzles to the English newspapers. Immediately all England started to work over them.

Hundreds of chess problems were turned out by Sam Loyd, whose first prize for a maker of these was taken when he was eleven years old. He was the author of "Chess Strategy," one of the most popular works on the game. Turning to the mechanical field, he invented such puzzles as the chair puzzle and the star puzzle, almost impossible of solution.

Phonograph Calls Cows.

The phonograph, through the ingenuity of a couple of boys in Wisconsin, has become a thing of usefulness as well as amusement. After the novelty had worn off the boys had cast aside the "canned" songs and funny talks and gone back to checkers. But they found that doing the chores seriously interfered with the game. One of them remembered that they could talk into the records and have the talk come out just like it went in. So between moves each called into the machine, "Come, boss; come, boss." Then they put the phonograph out facing the pasture and it loose. The cows came home.

A June Clearance of Linen and Rep Suits.

The month of June is the month for wearing cool, crisp looking linen and Rep suits such as these. And at just the time when they are most desired comes this sale of linen, linene and Rep suits at particularly low prices.

The reason for the reduction can easily be explained—through handling, trying on and packing they have become mussed and wrinkled. Not enough to harm them but enough, in many cases, to be noticeable and, therefore, we desire to close them out.

The styles are conservative—nothing extreme. They will be in good style and good taste for a long time to come. The materials are the very best. The suits are chiefly intended for mid-summer evening wear and for that purpose they are ideal.

The best way to gain an idea of the importance of this sale is to come and see the garments—the lots are small, however, and they will probably be sold quickly, so come at the earliest convenient moment.

$5 and $5.50 Linene and Rep Suits for
$2.75
Linene and Rep suits in solid blue, white and pink colors, and in blue, white and pink combinations.
Worth $5 and $5.50 each.

$6.75 and $7.50 Pure Linen and Rep Suits for
$3.75
Pure linen and Rep suits in mostly natural linen colors. Fine quality of materials,
Worth $6.75 and $7.50 each.

Half Price For These Handled Lingerie Dresses

In going through our stock we have found quite a number of lingerie dresses that have become mussed and wrinkled, and some are slightly soiled, through handling and showing. So, down come the prices, and we have made the reductions big enough to make great bargains.

Two grades have been reduced:

White lingerie and India linon dresses trimmed with baby Irish and valenciennes lace, applique yokes; worth $5 regularly, now reduced to $2.50.

RECIPROCITY UP IN THE SENATE

Canadian Measure is Launched in Upper House.

MANY SENATORS IN DEBATE.

McCumber of North Dakota Files Minority Report, Giving Sixteen Reasons Why Bill Is Opposed—Williams, Stone and Kern Stand by Taft.

Washington, June 14.—Canadian reciprocity was launched in the senate on what promises to be a stormy voyage.

Chairman Penrose of the finance committee and Senators Lodge and Bailey explained that a recommendation was impossible, because of a committee deadlock. Senators McCumber, LaFollette and Williams, members of the committee, presented their views, when unexpectedly a lengthy debate was started on a protest of Senator Bacon against the vote of Vice President Sherman, who broke a tie and adopted the Bristow amendment to the resolution providing for direct election of senators. Extensive precedents were cited against it and in support of the vice president's action.

McCumber Files Minority Report.

Taking the position that the Canadian reciprocity bill should be reported to the senate with an adverse recommendation, Senator McCumber (N. D.) filed a minority report, giving sixteen reasons why he opposed the bill. All were based on the contention that by opening the markets of the United States to Canadian farm products the proposed bill would have the effect of lowering the prices of American products.

Senator LaFollette, in an individual report, expressed adverse views on the reciprocity bill, declaring: "It is not the farmer, it is not the consumer for whom these negotiations were made. It was made to benefit the railroad, the miller, the packer, the newspaper publisher."

Senator John Sharp Williams submitted a report on the reciprocity bill, signed by Senator Stone (Mo.) and Senator Kern (Ind.), indorsing the position taken by President Taft.

SALVI ADMITS BURGLARY

Trial of Camorrists Resumed, but a Row Starts and Court is Adjourned.

Viterbo, Italy, June 14.—At the trial of the Camorrists the crown prosecutor introduced several witnesses to establish that Gennaro Cuoccolo was a member of the Camorra when he was murdered. These witnesses described a burglary, which they said had been organized by Cuoccolo and executed by Guiseppe Salvi and a band of followers.

Salvi, who is accused of being one of the actual assassins of Cuoccolo and his wife, admitted the burglary, but denied the participation of Cuoccolo, who he said he did not know. He added that the crime had been planned by a certain Cafiero, who had subsequently confessed and had been condemned to five years' imprisonment. Salvi asked that the witnesses by prosecuted for perjury.

President Bianchi replied that the accused could not make such a demand. Counsel for the defense supported Salvi's request so vigorously that a hubbub ensued and the judge declared the sitting suspended.

FLY GERMAN FLAG IN FRANCE

Vine Dressers at Baronville Make Demonstration.

Paris, June 14.—The riotous Baronville vine dressers hoisted a German flag which later was captured by a troop of cavalry sent to enforce order. The soldiers were jeered as they rode off with the bunting. Agitations in the Department of Aube are growing, but it is not feared the demonstrations there will be as flagrant as were those in the Department of the Marne.

Iowa Engineer Goes to China.

Washington, June 14.—Charles Davis James, an expert engineer, once head of the engineering department of the Iowa university, has been selected by the Red Cross society to proceed to China to aid the Chinese government in preventing the great periodical inundations which have resulted in frightful famines. It is believed that by scientific engineering the River Hwai, which causes the greatest damage through overflows, can be controlled.

Aviator Mueller Takes a Tumble.

Madgeburg, Germany, June 14.—The first serious accident of the national aviation circuit rases occurred here when Karl Mueller, in attempting to land, fell with his biplane from a height of about 125 feet. The aviator sustained a concussion of the brain, but at the hospital to which he was removed it was thought that he would recover.

Keokuk, Ia., June 14.—In a special election held here, Keokuk voted to grant to Stone & Webster an extension of the present franchise for the operation of the state railway and electric lighting to a period of twenty-five years. The properties are now owned by Sargent Lundy of Chicago.

"Richest Congressman" Disconsolate Over Elopement.

New York, June 14.—John E. Andrus, "the wealthiest man in congress," is disconsolate over the elopement of his favorite daughter, Miss Helen Whittier Andrus, with Henry Homer Hobbs, best known to the world as left tackle, Yale, '09, and at present "aisle manager" for a department store in Springfield, Mass.

When the new Mrs. Hobbs called up her father to say "Homer and I are married and we are starting on our honeymoon," the congressman slammed the receiver up on the hook without saying a word.

ENGINE RUNS WILD THROUGH KANSAS CITY

Is Derailed After Causing Two Freight Train Wrecks.

Kansas City, June 14.—A wild engine caused two freight train wrecks, was itself derailed and tied up two railroad lines near Swope parke here.

The engine which caused the wrecks was that of a worktrain on the Kansas City Southern railway. It was going south, pushing three cars ahead of it, when the engineer saw a regular freight approaching. The engineer and fireman jumped. The engine sped on and threw the approaching engine and two cars off the track.

The impact of the two trains threw the reverse lever of the worktrain engine and it rapidly backed away from the wreck. A mile north of the first wreck the wild engine collided with an extra freight. Five cars were derailed, blocking the Missouri Pacific track, near by.

ONE COX INDICTMENT VALID

Writ of Mandamus Is Issued Against Judge Dickson.

Cincinnati, June 14.—The judges of the Second judicial circuit court of Ohio issued the writ of mandamus asked for by Prosecuting Attorney Hunt against Common Pleas Judge William L. Dickson, who quashed one two perjury indictments against George B. Cox, the political leader and banker.

The circuit judges held that Prosecutor Hunt having elected to try Cox on one of the indictments, it became the imperative duty of Judge Dickson to order such an election entered in the journal of the court without waiting to pass on a motion of quash.

The effect of the decision is that one of the two indictments against Cox is alive, but the quashing of one by Judge Dickson is effective, and he may quash the other without delay if he so desires. Prosecutor Hunt, after he had read the decision, declared that no matter what action Judge Dickson might take he can now take the case to the state supreme court.

CLAIMS SHE OWNS IOWA LAND

Woman Arrested When She Seeks to Gain Access to President Taft.

Washington, June 14.—The Washington police are awaiting word from Cedar Rapids (Ia.) relatives of Mrs. Johanna Bueckning of that place, who was arrested at the White House when she sought to gain access to President Taft. To the secret service men on guard there she said she wanted the president to recover certain lands she claimed she once owned in Iowa. Her conversation was such as to impel the officers to send her to the Washington asylum hospital.

Pension Fund for Ministers.

Duluth, June 14.—In order to create an endowment fund for pensions for ministers of the Lutheran denomination, $150,000 will be raised by assessment of $1 per member throughout the entire country. This decision was reached at the synodical council of the Augustana synod of Swedish Lutheran churches of America.

MEN OLD AT 35.

One Million Baldheads Who Thought Dandruff Wasn't Dangerous.

In the United States and Canada today there are nearly a million men who at 35 can be put in the baldhead class.

When these men had thick, vigorous hair, dandruff made its appearance.

That was the time to attack the enemy of mankind—the persistent little devil called a dandruff microbe, or germ that burrows deep down into the hair root and saps it of the vitality that is so essential to the hair.

Young men or any man, for that matter, beware of the dandruff germ; it is not a theory, but an actual condition that confronts you. That dandruff is caused by a germ is proven beyond question. That a germ destroys the hair root is today a matter of common knowledge.

The Koch Pharmacy has the remedy that kills the dandruff germs. They guarantee it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. It is called Parisian Sage and can be obtained at druggists in every town in America—ask them for it. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle of Parisian Sage.

"Armour's Millions" Pleased.

The big tent theater was again comfortably filled last night by an enthusiastic crowd, who saw the drama "Armour's Millions." The play made a hit with the audience; in fact, the laughs and applause were almost continuous. Mr. Arnold C. Baldwin had a part which gave him the opportunity to display his talents, which have gained him the title of the most popular leading man in metropolitan stock companies, and though he is modest enough not to make it a point to gain favor, Mr. Baldwin has the honor to claim last night's bill as his own, for he wrote it himself. Miss Cecile Elliott made her much heralded appearance in the harem skirt, and while it was not as immodest as some thought it would be, it was a decided novelty. Tonight's bill is "Paid a Debt." Prof. Young's orchestra has created a great deal of favorable comment.

HOME COMING DAY AT HARMONY CHURCH

What promises to be an event in Nodaway county history will occur next Sunday at Harmony church, northeast of Maryville.

It is "Home Coming day," and the pastor, Rev. C. R. Green, and his people have been preparing for it some time. They have assurance at the present time of the presence of about 1,400 people, who have personal interest in some way in this church.

The services will begin at 10 o'clock a. m., and interesting speakers will be heard until noon, when a basket dinner will be partaken of. There will be good music, the Northwest Normal quartet being among the singers.

It is expected that one of the three Wallace brothers, editors of the Wallace Farmer, the well known agricultural paper, will be present to speak. They are sons of President Wallace of the national conservation committee.

Rev. Green and the members of his church are accomplishing some unusual things, as church life goes. He is leading the members and their children in the recognition and development of spiritual life, physically, mentally and morally, in everything that pertains to daily living, whether it is raising corn and hogs, dragging roads, securing a "Saints Highway" or what. Even the Sunday school is going to have a corn contest this fall.

Harmony church is working along lines that will bring wide-reaching results some day.

The program for Home Coming day will appear Friday.

CURED TO STAY CURED.

How a Maryville Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—
From urinary disorders—
From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.
Maryville people testify.
Here's one case of it:

I. M. Woods, East Jenkins street, Maryville, Mo., says: "For some time kidney trouble had been lurking in my system, and although it did not bother me to any extent, I could see that the attacks were becoming more frequent and severe. Finally my kidneys became so badly disordered that I was obliged to seek relief. The kidney secretions were unnaural and so irregular in passage as to annoy me greatly. I also had a pain in my back and could hardly stoop. Dizzy spells and headaches were common, and I was in a miserable condition when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills. I began their use, and after I had taken the contents of three boxes I was free from kidney trouble."—(Statement given in 1901.)

Time is the Test.

On September 19, 1908, Mr. Wood added to the above: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected in my case several years ago has been permanent. I am glad to again recommend this splendid remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn & Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for th United States.

WARRINER GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

Trusty From Ohio Penitentiary Witness Against Cooke.

STOLE TO RECOUP HIS LOSSES

Judge Hunt Rules Out Evidence of Clerks of Big Four Who Would Prove Contents of Cash Books Destroyed—Men Higher Up to Testify.

Cincinnati, June 14.—When Charles L. Warriner, wearing the garb of a trusty in the Ohio penitentiary, took the stand in the trial of Edgar S. Cooke for alleged embezzlement, the voice of the man who told how he had stolen $643,000 from the road, was heard in public for the second time since he stood up in court to receive sentence.

Warriner testified at the trial for alleged blackmail last year of Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford, the "woman in the case," and at that time he asserted he had given to her and Cooke something over $100,000. In terse sentences Warriner outlined his dealings with Cooke. He told how the latter, receiving $90 a month, had handled millions of the road's money.

Warriner testified that when he discovered the alleged discrepancy of $24,000 in Cooke's accounts, the latter at first denied, but later admitted it.

"He said he had become involved with Mrs. Ford and had tried without success to recoup his losses in the stock market," related Warriner. "He told me he had $9,000 of the money left and I said I would take care of the balance of it if he would return the $9,000."

Judge Charles T. Hunt ruled out testimony of clerks of the Big Four railroad as to the contents of the cash books of the road that have been destroyed on the ground that "mere clerks" were not in charge of the books and that higher officials of the road only would be allowed to testify regarding them.

WHO GETS PROFIT ON BEEF?

Kansas Begins Investigation to Solve Great Mystery.

Topeka, Kan., June 14.—Who makes the profit on beef? The stockman says not he; the retailer declares he is making a bare living, and the packer can prove by yards of statistics that his only profit is what he gets for the hoofs at the glue factory.

Under present prices the consumer is dead sure he isn't getting any bargains in the beef line, so the state of Kansas has gone into a widespread investigation to solve the great mystery of the disappearance of the profit on beef.

J. H. Mercer, state live stock sanitary commissioner, is sending letters to all the stockmen, retailers and packers in Kansas with a list of questions to be answered bearing on the question. The stockman is being asked what it costs to raise a steer and what the steer brings on the average at the market, the retailer is asked what prices he pays for meat, and what prices he gets for it, and the packers are asked to tell what they pay for beef on the average, and what the beef and the by-products bring. In these answers Mr. Mercer expects to find the answer to the question of the high price of beef.

Steal Safe by Daylight.

Chicago, June 14.—Four burglars backed up a wagon in front of a store on the west side here, broke open the door and hauled away a 1,200-pound safe containing $125 in cash and $100 worth of jewelry. Max Kutchai, owner of the store, discovered the thieves driving away, too late to hinder them. The police are now searching for the safe.

KEITH DENIES ANY COMBINE

President of Coal Company on Stand in Lumber Probe.

KNEW NOTHING OF AGREEMENT

Says Prices on Yellow Pine Have Been Regulated by Supply and Demand, Not by Curtailing the Cut. Big Increase in Cost of Production.

Kansas City, June 14.—Charles S. Keith, president of the Central Coke and Coal company of this city, was recalled to be examined by the attorneys for the defendant. He said that the cost of producing yellow pine increased 88 per cent from 1898 to 1908; that the supply and demand and not the price list issued by the Yellow Pine Manufacturers' association controlled the price of yellow pine, and that his company sometimes arbitrarily curtails its production of lumber without consulting representatives of other lumber interests, because of business policy or the physical conditions under which the lumber is produced.

"While your company was a member of the Southern Lumber Manufacturers' association did you know of any agreement among the members of that association not to sell their lumber to farmers' co-operative associations or any other would-be purchasers?" asked Attorney Scarrett.

"I know of no such agreement," answered the witness.

"Was there any agreement, tacit, expressed or implied, to regulate, fix or control the price of yellow pine?"

"No."

"Was there ever an agreement to limit competition in the state of Missouri, or to limit or regulate the amount of lumber produced?"

"There was never an agreement to limit competition and never an agreement to curtail production except in 1904. Government statistics, however, show that the total amount of yellow pine produced in 1904 was greater than that of 1903. Lumber companies sometimes arbitrarily curtail their own production to meet conditions. In 1906 the transportation facilities were bad because we could secure only 60 per cent of the normal number of freight cars. Accordingly we cut down our production to 60 per cent. We did not want to pay labor to cut timber that we could not ship. Later we curtailed our production again to preserve our timber, believing we could handle it to better advantage if we held it."

Knox Is Called to Explain.

Washington, June 14.—A subpoena for Secretary of State Knox to appear and explain the payment to Frederick Hale, son of former Senator Eugene Hale, of $5,000 from the Canadian boundary fund of the state department was issued by the house committee on expenditures in the state department. The money was said to have been paid on the sole authority of Mr. Knox's O. K. on a piece of paper attached to an unsigned voucher.

DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Harmless, Old-Fashioned Remedy Brings Back Color to Gray Hair and Makes It Grow.

How many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old-time, tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy nothing equals our grandmothers' "sage tea." Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer.

Nowadays, when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy.

Druggists are authorized to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.
